J. H. FISHER,
Auditor.

Honolulu, H. T., July 23, 1904.

HIS CLEAR MEMORY.

A story is told of an eminent lawyer receiving a severe reprimand from a witness whom he was trying to brow beat. It was an important issue, and in order to save his cause from defeat it was necessary that the lawyer should impeach the witness. He endeavored to do it on the ground of age, in the following manner:

"How old are you?" asked the lawyer.
"Seventy-two years," replied the witness.
"Your memory, of course, is not so brilliant as it was twenty years ago, is it?" asked the lawyer.
"I do not know what it is," answered the witness.
"State some circumstance which occurred, say twelve years ago," said the lawyer, "and we shall be able to see how well you can remember."

"I appeal to Your Honor," said the witness, "if I am to be interrogated in this manner; it is insolent."
"You had better answer the question," replied the judge.
"Yes, sir; state it," said the lawyer.
"Well, sir, if you compel me to do it, I will. About twelve years ago you studied in Judge —'s office, did you not?"
"Yes," answered the lawyer.
"Well, sir, I remember your father coming into my office and saying to me, 'Mr. D —, my son is to be examined to-morrow, and I wish you would lend me $25 to buy him a suit of clothes.' I remember, also, sir, that from that day to this he has never paid me that sum. That, sir, I remember as though it were yesterday."—Philadelphia Ledger.

BLUE DENIM AND KHAKI

Local Store Shelves
Have Little of Former.

Blue denim cloth of the kind which adorns laborers in the shape of overalls and jumpers is fast disappearing from the counters of the wholesalers in Honolulu, and but little of the material is obtainable from the Eastern mills.

A wholesale dealer states that the advent of khaki into the market, commencing with the outbreak of the Spanish war, has had much to do with driving blue denim away. Formerly there was no other good material, for work suits than the blue denim. It was a durable cloth which washed out well. Dirt seemed to sink into its blue depths and after being washed the garments did not proclaim grease spots and other foreign substances in a loud talking way.

Khaki had its victory over denim as a patriotic burst of feeling coming in with the war. Everybody had to have khaki and even the gentler sex wore dresses of the dun-colored material. Laborers in city street trenches, miners, railroad men, workers in all the trades, and canefield laborers all had to have khaki and the mills had to run overtime to get out enough material to supply the demands. Blue denim took a back seat for a time and the stock ran low. This is true now in Honolulu, while khaki can be obtained in any quantity.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is everywhere acknowledged to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints. It always cures and cures quickly. It can be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases of cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It should be taken at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. Sold by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

Nothing if not original: Mrs. Smith—"Have you named your twin girls, Lucy?" Lucy—"Yes, we've done name 'em 'Floppin' an' 'Jepsin'." Powerful pooty names. Dave, my ol' man, he done got dem names outen de river colyum."—Cincinnati Tribune.

"I'll never marry," said Miss Passay, with emphasis. "Perhaps not," replied Miss Snapp, "but you certainly have put up a gallant fight."—Philadelphia Ledger.
